

LibriVox

Asteroid of Fear

by Raymond Z. Gallun (1911 – 1994)

John Endlich needed to clean up his act. Gambling, drinking, a hot temper and wanderlust were the last things Rose and the kids needed. So he went to the Homesteaders Office and signed up to terraform Vesta, a chunk of a once thriving alien planet that had exploded from within; a flat lump of crust which was now the remains of a farm on one side and a mining operation on the other. The miners hated Endlich and sabotaged his plans at every opportunity. They were going to kill him and his family if he didn't find a way to stop them.

Asteroid of Fear was first published in the March, 1951 edition of Planet Stories magazine.

This project has 2 files and a total running time of 1:32:30.

Read by Gregg Margarite

Dedicated Proof-Listener: Betty M.

Artwork: NASA/CXC/M.Weiss

Cover design: Bart de Leeuw

Meta-Coordinator/Cataloging: Gregg Margarite

---

For more information or to volunteer, please visit librivox.org.

All LibriVox productions are in the Public Domain.

Raymond Z. Gallun - Asteroid of Fear

Raymond Z. Gallun - Asteroid of Fear